Please be sure to go to all the appointments you make. If you fail to show up for an appointment 2 times you will be required to use the paper option to complete any remaining credits you need for that quarter.

Online studies should be completed right away. The time you signed up for is the deadline. If you wait until the deadline, you will not be able to do the study and you will be given an unexcused no-show. You are limited to earning no more than 35% of your credits through online studies. You will not be allowed to sign up for a study if it will cause you to exceed this limit. To calculate many credits you can do in online studies, multiply the number of credits you can earn for the quarter by 0.35.

Appointments

The last day for research and papers is Thursday, September 11, at 5 pm. Papers are due at 5 pm.

If you are participating in research for extra credit, be sure to pay attention to your instructor's deadline, as it may be different from the one listed here.

Please be sure that all your credits are assigned to a course. They will not count unless they are assigned to the correct course. You cannot reassign credits from previous quarters, as those credits have been zeroed out.

For information about changing your course enrollment, see this website
